Belmont Adopts Measures On Firearms, House-Moving

Adoption of two ordinances, one prohibiting discharge of firearms within the city limits and another regulating house-moving operations, highlighted this week's Belmont City Council meeting.

The firearms ordinance forbids use of air rifles, sling-shots and slug-shots as well as standard types of firearms within the city limits.

It was drawn up at the request of Police Chief O. Walter Lindholm, who said his department had received numerous complaints against BB guns within the city.

The house-moving ordinance provides that police and fire chiefs must give written permission for operations and be advised of the route to be taken.

Use of police escort is to be paid for by movers at the rate of $5 per hour, and city street department employees will be available if needed at the rate of $2.50 per hour.

The ordinance provides that trees may be trimmed in advance of actual moving should the house-mover desire to do so.

In other action, the council chastised Mrs. K. M. Rousseau of the Belmont Realty for "bypassing" the council in obtaining a two-inch water line for a two veteran homeowners in the area near Cipriani Blvd. and Ponce Ave.

Mrs. Rousseau appeared before the council in answer to a request for information on the water line. W. P. Davis, director of the district, had first told her, Mrs. Rousseau stated, that not enough funds were available to supply water for the area.

Asked if the pipeline was placed on the city's right of way, Mrs. Rousseau said that it was not. She explained that it was placed in the shoulder of the street.

Although she declined to tell councilmen who had ordered the pipeline laid, Mrs. Rousseau said she would ask those interested in the line to appear at next week's meeting.

Councilman McCarthy joined Mayor Kohlmeier in demanding a "full explanation" at next week's meeting.

The line, estimated at about 550 feet in its easterly course along Ponce, was installed by Mrs. Rousseau's son, Robert L. Rousseau, a carpenter.

It was broken while a city grader was in operation several weeks ago in the area. Mrs. Rousseau said the pipe was about two feet below the surface before grading began.

A similar request for installation of a water line by S. W. Duplessis in lot 10, block 98, was sent to the water board upon recommendation of City Engineer L. G. Brian.

Duplessis said he had obtained permission from the board to lay 1000 feet of 34-inch pipe and hook up at the nearest city water main. However, councilmen doubted that enough pressure could be obtained for fire protection and tabled the request until assurance from the water board is obtained.

The council also tabled action on annexation of property on Old County Rd. owned by Albert and Della Garibaldi.

Approved a plan for construction of a new recreation center for toddlers and teen-agers in Cipriani playground. The plan calls for a building 30x50 feet to be built by funds solicited by public subscription, according to Contractor Donald Howard, who presented a sketch of the structure.

Approved a request from Robert Scott, 813 North Rd., asking that parking on that street be restricted to the south side of the street.

Ordered a sign warning motorists that Pine Knoll Dr. is not a through street. F. J. Juliani appeared before the council with a petition from the street's residents.

Approved rezoning of an 1100-foot strip along El Camino Real from residential to commercial provided no further excavations are undertaken. The property is owned by Foot-hill Development Co.

Approved rezoning the E. D. Swift tract property in lot 6 of block 2 from first residential to commercial. The approval also placed the property in Fire Dist. No. 2 instead of No. 1 as originally.

Approved a change in setback lines from 25 feet to 20 feet on property owned by C. V. Philipp on lots 12 and 13 in block 6 of the E. D. Swift tract. At a special adjourned meeting of the planning commission last night, Philipp withdrew an application to subdivide the Flynn-Brogan lots adjacent on North Rd. and Ruth Ave.

Authorized the city attorney to go ahead with a contract creating an assessment district to finance sewer and water lines in lots 4 to 13 on block 89, Carlton Schammel, who proposed the project, agreed to purchase the bonds needed and told councilmen he would put up necessary funds for incidental expenses.

Authorized a change in setback lines for property in Belmont Country Club Properties owned by Charlotte Wertz. The property includes lot 3 in block 50. The change from 25 feet to 15 feet will facilitate construction of a garage, the council was told.

Ordered F. Bamut of Redwood City to bring in plans for his self-serve gasoline station.

Ordered the city attorney to draw up a contract between the city and F. Bamut calling for the latter to pay for sewage repairs should they arise on his property near the new Belmont Theater on El Camino Real.

Bamut plans to erect a self-serve gasoline station and tire shop on the northwest corner of Ruth Ave. and El Camino Real.

Dogs Create Problem In Belmont

Belmont city councilmen this week agreed to confer with Redwood City officials and authorities at the Palo Alto Animal Shelter in an attempt to find a solution for the growing stray dog problem.

The matter was pointed out in a letter from Principal Howard Kraus of the Louis Barrett School. He reported that stray animals were becoming a menace to school children in the western section of the city.

Councilman Donnell McCarthy said that the city had been unable to come to any agreement for a joint pound with either Burlingame or San Mateo.

He said that the city faces "rather dire consequences" unless some solution is found. Though there is still some hope for agreement with San Mateo, McCarthy said, other means should be investigated.

City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy was ordered to investigate the city's legal problems connected with any joint use of pound facilities and report at the next meeting Nov. 28.

The council also followed a recommendation from Councilman McCarthy, "regretfully" taking no action on two requests from the Rev. John E. Daley, chairman of the recreation committee. He had asked that city call a moratorium on building permits in the area including Notre Dame and Belmont Aves. near Ralston Blvd. and urged city maintenance crews visit three playgrounds once each week.

Because of the uncertain status of the commission's planned recreation center in the Notre Dame Ave. area, the council called for "some definite plan" before the moratorium was set.

Use of maintenance crews at Homeview, Cipriani and Alameda playgrounds was also tabled until a later date.

Youth Talent Show Forms Available Soon

Application forms will be available soon for the Youth Talent Show here Jan. 19-22, Chmn. Luke Argilla announced today.

Argilla reported that his committee met this week at Sequoia High School and discussed budget, publicity, acceptance of applications and rules for the show which will be held in the Recreation Center Bldg. on Roosevelt Ave.

All youths in the Sequoia High School Dist. between 12 and 18 are eligible to enter projects which they have made themselves.

Argilla pointed out that many young people are uncertain about the type of project to enter, and he explained that anyone having an exhibit to show send a card to Waldo Stone, publicity chairman, at 103 Somerset St., and he will advise whether the project is eligible.

Applications will be distributed through the schools and the city recreation department as soon as they have been printed, Argilla explained.

START ON NEW SCHOOL — Work started this week on construction of the new Atherton school. The school, which will be under the jurisdiction of the Redwood City Elementary School Dist., will be located on Selby Ln. near Evergreen Ln. J. C. Peterson of San Carlos is the contractor. He had bid $126,149 for construction of the eight-classroom building. This is part of a program to remedy the overcrowded school situation. Workmen shown above take the initial steps in getting the site ready for the new building.

Peninsula Group Maps SP Fare Fight at Meet

Final plans for a full-scale fight against another increase in commuters' fares, the third in as many years, were nearing completion today, following a weekend meeting of the Peninsula Protective Assn. in Redwood City.

Howard Magee, Redwood City lawyer and chairman of the association, presided over the discussion in which representatives from virtually every city on the Peninsula participated.

Commuters of the entire Peninsula will be represented, Magee said, when the association's experts appear before the Public Utilities Commission in opposition to the Southern Pacific Company's request for a third round increase. At the weekend meeting reports were submitted and policy outlined for the fare fight. The next step, he added, will be approval of the final program by the association's executive committee.

"Since the Peninsula Protective Assn. was organized three weeks ago in Redwood City," Magee said, "we have been doing substantial groundwork to put the organization on an effective working basis. Most of this now has been accomplished, and we are ready for definite and impressive action."

"In addition to our organization work of the past three weeks, we have been busy with contacts and conferences with state officials, and others. We have been assured by Governor Warren and the Public Utilities Commission we will be given every opportunity to substantiate our protest against the new commuter fare increase, and that our arguments will receive careful study from the commission."

We have been informed that Justus Craemer, known for his many years on the commission, will act as referee at the preliminary hearings.

"When the first hearing is held, Nov. 21 in Redwood City, our experts and officers will be present to hear the Southern Pacific present its arguments for the fare boost. We will make careful study of these presentations, and offer our own findings and arguments at a later meeting, with the approval of the commission."

"In our conferences during the past three weeks with representatives of the Public Utilities Commission, we have been informed of the commission's interest in this issue, stirred largely by the vigorous protests we have presented."

Belmont Council Appoints Six New City Commissioners

Belmont city councilmen this week approved appointment of five members to a new weed abatement committee and one new member of the recreation commission.

At the same time, a plan to increase the number of recreation commissioners from five to seven was advocated by one councilman and will be acted upon at next Monday's special meeting.

Named to the weed abatement committee, by Mayor Bayley Kohlmeier were Lawrence A. Wise, chairman; Virgil C. Smith, Homer R. Halsey, Thomas Woodward and Henry Hughes.

Mayor Kohlmeier appointed Walter Straley to fill the vacancy on the recreation commission created by the expiration of the term of James T. Healy.

Councilman Donnell McCarthy, chairman of the health and welfare committee, urged that the commission be expanded to seven members.

The change would result in "representation from more districts within the city," McCarthy said. After agreement of the council, City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy was ordered to draft a resolution creating the two new members for presentation at next week's meeting.

The council also took action on one of two proposals requested in a letter from Mary Beth Marshall of the Belmont Cooperative Nursery School.

One request called for permission of the council to relocate a bench at the toddlers' playground adjoining the city hall.

The nursery group is planning to erect a swing set on the site now occupied by the bench.

Councilmen approved the request after the nursery group had previously been given permission to install the swings.

The new equipment will be available to all children in the city, councilmen were assured.

San Carlos Boy Hit by Bus, Hurt

Robert Norbut, 7-year-old San Carlos boy, was in Community Hospital after the bicycle he was riding was struck by a bus shortly after noon Saturday.

Hospital attendants said the boy suffered "superficial" wounds. Possibility of head and injuries was investigated.

San Carlos police said the accident occurred at the intersection of Arroyo Ave. and Cedar St. about 12:10 p.m.

Young Norbut was riding down hill in an easterly direction on Arroyo Ave. when struck by a Peninsula Transit Lines bus operated by Buddy Franklin, 23, of 3240 North Fair Oaks Dr. Menlo Park.

The impact threw the boy into the air and he landed in the path of the bus. Franklin stopped the vehicle before further injury was inflicted, police said.

Young Norbut is the son of Walter Norbut of 1956 Arroyo Ave.

Franklin was not held.

Youth Program Set for Woodside

A rural youth program has been mapped out by the Woodside Farm Bureau Center and 4-H Club work will be organized in the Woodside-Portola area this year, according to J. J. McNamara, farm advisor, in charge of the project in San Mateo County.

Edgar Norris was elected director of the Woodside Farm Bureau Center, William Hamilton, vice-director and Carl Shine, secretary, during a recent meeting. Retiring officers are R. A. Isenberg and William Wilke.

It was voted at the meeting to sponsor the youth program and foster interest in farming or raising of livestock. Meetings will be held in Woodside School on the third Thursday of each month.

This program is an over all national project under the Agricultural Extension Services and more definite plans will be announced later, McNamara said.

San Carlos Taxpayers Get Breakdown of City Spending

San Carlos taxpayers will get their first breakdown of the tax dollar this weekend when the city includes figures in its property tax bills.

The leaflets are now printed and are expected to be sent out to property holders "by the end of the week" according to City Mgr. Howard Brod.

"Since you are an integral part of the community," the leaflet states, "and pay part of the bill for these services, you are entitled to know from what sources each dollar of revenue is derived and how it will be spent."

Of each dollar collected, the report indicated, 53 1/2 cents comes from property taxes. That is more than three times as large as the next largest item state subventions and grants, which contribute 17 1/2 cents annually.

Other revenue sources are licenses, 8.75 cents; municipal court fines, 7.75 cents; building permit fees, 4.50 cents; weed abatement assessments and miscellaneous receipts, 2.50 cents each, and franchises and privileges, 1.50 cents.

Largest item in the city's outlay, the report shows, is for street and sewer maintenance, were 19 cents of the tax dollar is consumed.

Police protection is not far behind with an expenditure of 18.5 cents; next follows general government with 14.5 cents, and fire protection, with 11.5 cents. The remainder of the services are tax collection, treasurer, clerk and management, general government; park maintenance; miscellaneous expenditures; recreation; bond retirement; building inspection; weed abatement; engineering and city court.

High School Faculty Elects Officers

Results of two elections held among faculty members at Sequoia High School Friday were announced today by Principal Thor Krogh.

Five members of the newly formed advisory board were named and 12 members of the instructional council won recognition. The advisory board is to meet with school trustees periodically and will make recommendations to the superintendent.

The instructional council has as its aim revision of committee assignments and will make recommendations for improvement of classroom instruction to Krogh, an ex-officio member.

Krogh said that each committee is expected to hold first meetings within a week or 10 days. He congratulated the teachers on their cooperation in staging the election and said both committees should aid in smoothing educational development of the high school.

Those named to the advisory board were Walter Bava, Marjorie Braymer, E. F. Elson, Irene Jeleny and Clyde Kimball.

Serving on the instructional council will be Fred Blase, Angelina Burns, Donald Cherry, Montana Delbon, Duncan Gillies, Francis MacDonald, Vera Jensen, Clyde Kimball, Cecil Kyle, Philip Maslin, Robert Poole and Lucille Winter.

Ballots were tabulated by Norman Walsh, Mrs. Ruth Oak and Althea Truitt. Mary Cowden, Jack Marks, all teachers at the school.

A total of 107 votes was cast, Krogh said today, though the school has 120 teachers. Some were unable to vote yesterday, he explained, because of illness.

They were to be given an opportunity to do so when they return to school, according to Krogh.

Krogh said that the instructional council expects to pare down a number of long-standing but outmoded committees to "four or five general committees." The plan calls for subcommittees to do the work of the many existing groups now set up.

AFL Wins Vote At Johns-Manville

American Federation of Labor, Teamsters Local 655, Monday won a 42 to 1 vote of preference in a jurisdictional election at the Johns-Manville Products Co. plant here.

The balloting, under the supervision of Susan Schroeder, representative of the National Labor Relations Board, was carried on at the plant, and offered union men the choice of representation by the teamsters or Local 6, CIO, which had had jurisdiction at the Redwood City plant for the past four years.

Votes are being checked by the NLRB, and the teamsters will assume jurisdiction as soon as the company has been notified officially of the result, Miss Schroeder explained.

There are 48 men involved in the local jurisdictional controversy. Five men did not vote yesterday.

Fire Chief Elbert Miller Talks To Belmont Woman's Club

Elbert Miller, Belmont fire chief, addressed the Belmont Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon on "The Life of the Modern Fireman." Mrs. William Celler introduced the chief.

Chief Miller said that the life of the fireman today is no longer one of pinhole or pool playing between fires, but the life for an ambitious man of high caliber and a good education. His time is spent in learning new techniques, in frequent drills and in instructing his colleagues, the volunteer workers, and the public. He must know his city, the buildings in it, and the people, how and where they live, Chief Miller said.

The choral ensemble of the San Bruno City Woman's Club entertained with two selections accompanied by Kay S. Totum, who sang "With a Heart That's Free," by Robyn, accompanied by Lois Brockway. Members of the choral group are Klis Powell, Vera McWilliams, Doris Malmstrom, Bernice Murphy, Connie Lefebvre, Lois Brockway and Kay Totum.

It was recommended that the Belmont club join the general federation of women's clubs and also that the club continue its yearly custom of donating treats to the San Mateo County Home on Crystal Springs Rd. Both were accepted by members.

The ways and means committee recommended that a silver tea and a white elephant sale

SC Firemen Halt Two Small Blazes

San Carlos firemen answered two alarms Friday, only one resulting in damage, according to Chief Lyle Clark.

The department answered a call at 10:20 p.m. when a woman resident reported seeing flames in an adjoining yard. The call sent firemen to the home of G. S. West, 1132 Cedar St., where West was burning rubbish in an incinerator without a permit. Earlier, firemen were called to the home of R. D. McKean, 1125 Walnut St. They reported that a washing machine motor had become overheated, but the washer was turned off before damage could result.

Child Safety Plea Urged SC Kiwanians

Forty per cent of the children over 1 year old who die in California die of accidents, Dr. Esther B. Clark of Palo Alto told members of the San Carlos Kiwanis Club this week.

Of these fatalities, the main cause is automobiles, she said.

Stressing the need for community safety programs, Dr. Clark pointed to statistics for 1948 when 98,000 people died of accidents throughout the United States, with 32,000 of those resulting from auto accidents, and 34,000 from accidents in the home. She added that while the death rate from disease had decreased from 80 to 90 per cent, the death rate from accidents had decreased only by 20 odd per cent.

The speaker, a practicing physician in Palo Alto, said, "A very high percentage of children in our hospitals are there as a result of accidents, and those accidents are practically all preventable."

Dr. Clark rattled the apathy of the public toward this situation, pointing out that if as many people died throughout the country from an epidemic as die on every holiday weekend from traffic accidents, the nation would marshal its resources to combat the disease. She pointed to the drives for funds to fight cancer and tuberculosis and heart disease.

Some communities, the speaker said, have organized effective safety programs, working through clubs, schools and the police force. She advised service clubs to sponsor such campaigns and told how the National Safety Council stands ready to help in any community safety project, while county and state councils work toward safety on the highways.

Groups should concern themselves both with traffic safety and with educational programs to cut down deaths from burns, drownings, falls and poisonings, which make up the bulk of fatalities to children aside from highway accidents.

Dr. Clark pointed to the economic impact of unnecessary fatalities among children, explaining that the loss in working years, aside from life expectancy years, vitally affects the whole economic picture in the nation.

Daley Resigns Belmont Rec Post

The Rev. John E. Daley, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, has resigned as chairman of the Belmont Recreation Commission effective "immediately."

The letter of resignation was sent to Councilman Donnell McCarthy, chairman of the public health and welfare committee. The recreation commission is a subcommittee.

McCarthy said that the matter will come up for consideration at next Monday's council meeting. Contents of the letter were not revealed.

However, Father Daley said today that he gave up his post because "I was unable to keep up with its duties."

The resignation came less than 24 hours after the council tabled two requests regarding recreation matters.

One request sought a building moratorium on property between Belburn Ave. and Ralston Blvd., a site being studied for use as a city recreation center. The other asked for city maintenance crews to visit three park areas each week.

Father Daley said he had not lost his enthusiasm for recreation in Belmont. "I haven't given up," he said, "and I'll still be in there fighting for anything I think is necessary for a well-rounded program."

Suit Filed in Court Charges That Ruling Nullifies Ordinance

The San Carlos Civil Service Commission has asked the superior court to order an election on whether the city should have a city manager form of government.

Frank V. Kington, a Redwood City attorney and a member of the civil service commission, charged that ordinances passed by the city council are nullifying the civil service ordinance, which was adopted by a vote of the people.

The court action, a petition for a writ of mandate, named the members of the city council as defendants. The commissioners who joined Kington in the suit are Ferd Prince, W. M. Jackson, Larry Spence and H. A. Hockley. Specifically, the petition asks the court to order the city council to set up a civil service fund of not less than $300 and not more than $1000.

It also seeks a court order forcing the city council to submit to a municipal election the City Manager Ordinance and the Tax Collector Ordinance. The petition stated that the people of San Carlos by election adopted the Civil Service Ordinance on June 10, 1947, and in the same way amended it on Apr. 13, 1948.

In the ordinance, the city council is required to set up a civil service fund. The petition stated that the council has failed and refused to do it.

On Oct. 27, 1948, the petition continued, the city council adopted an ordinance establishing the city manager form of government, specifying that the secretary to the manager shall not be under civil service.

The ordinance also provides for the automatic repeal of any ordinances in conflict with the city manager ordinance. Because of this and the subsequent tax collector ordinance, which makes the collector appointed by the manager, "all other ordinances are repealed," the petition stated.

Kington said that he believed the city manager form of government should be voted by the electorate, if the people wanted it, and not installed by the city council.

Up to 1947, he continued, city managers could be installed in cities of the sixth class only by vote of the people. However, state laws were amended at that time so that city councils could set up the manager form of government.

He was preparing an alternative writ of mandate to submit to Superior Judge Ayllett R. Cotton, in whose court the petition was filed. The writ would set the date of hearing on the petition. Kington expected the hearing to be on Nov. 14.

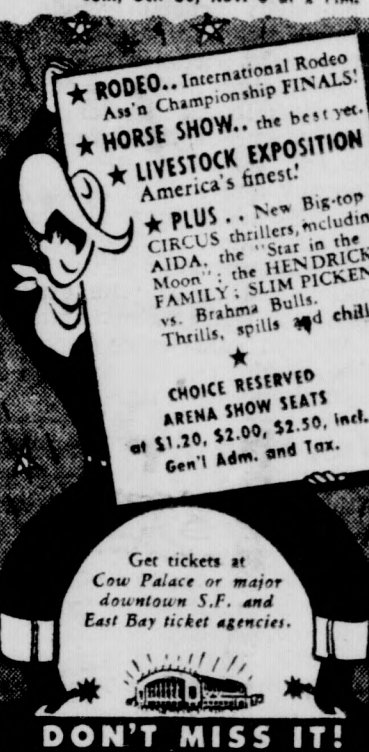

At the time the city manager plan was voted by the city council there was strong protest from a number of sources, including some of the members of the council itself.

The council, after the adoption of the ordinance, named Howard Brod city manager.

DON'T MISS IT!

The needy aged, the blind, the working public—desperately need PROTECTION from PENSION POLITICIANS! PROPOSITION 2 guarantees that protection!

Today, in the shadow of the Capitol dome in Sacramento, there's a pension government-within-a-government—a virtual dictatorship with $200,000,000 of public funds at its command! It operates beyond any effective control by the Legislature, the Governor, or the People!

END THE DICTATORSHIP!

The head of this "Huey Long" set-up, the State Director of Social Welfare, is a former officer of the pressure organization that promoted the McLain Pension Scheme—the fantastic, trickily-worded measure enacted last year by a narrow margin. The Director got the job because her name appeared in the act's fine-print!

In effect, the Director is judge and jury over the welfare of pensioners. Aid for the aged and blind is in a sorry state today!

Many Long Distance operators ring telephones in a number of cities across country...much as you dial a call.

SHE "PUSH-BUTTONS" CALLS COAST-TO-COAST

New system can put through calls in 30 seconds

1. One of our newest developments to speed your Long Distance calls is this push-button equipment. So complex it's almost a mechanical brain, it's a key to a system which permits an operator to call straight to telephones in other cities . . . practically as fast as dialing across town. Push-button or dial equipment now is used for three out of four calls between cities.

2. Quicker call completions are one big advantage of the push-button system. If you know the number—instead of just the name and address—we can ring the telephone you are calling in an average of about thirty seconds after you lift the receiver. That's three times as fast as we can serve you if you don't know the number. So it's a good idea to keep a list of those you call often.

3. Perhaps your next Long Distance call may be handled this way. For the new plan is part of our program to improve all service to make it more valuable to you . . . and it's a bargain today. A daytime station call to any point on the East Coast is only $2.50 plus tax . . . the lowest rate ever.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Cities League Hears Warren, Elects Division Leaders

BERKELEY (AP) — Gov. Earl Warren says he wants the corporation of California cities in meeting three basic state needs — jobs, highways and water.

Speaking at the closing session of the League of California Cities in Hotel Claremont last night, the governor also said he would be glad to sit down with a committee and review the whole question of decontrolling rents. He said this also was a major state problem. It was discussed earlier yesterday in a convention session.

Warren asked the cities to lay out a long range program to get more industries and create additional jobs for a growing population.

He said the growing unemployment problem would be considered at a statewide conference at Sacramento Dec. 5-6. Discussing problems of communities in meeting expanding highway needs, the governor declared "we must stick to our freeway and limited access policy." He added there always was dissatisfaction with any new highway program and the state's policy had to be "the greatest good for the greatest number." Warren said water conservation would require millions of dollars and years of effort.

Yes, Help Was Needed

LONDON (AP) — The British Air Ministry was intrigued. Midway in the war, an inventor wrote in to say he needed minor technical assistance on an invention that would keep airplanes from exploding when they crashed. John Edwards, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, told a conference of scientists the ministry quickly offered help.

"He then wrote back to say his idea was that there should be in each petrol tank a capsule containing a substance which would render petrol non-inflammable, the capsule to be made so it would melt when the petrol reached a certain temperature, thus releasing the contents."

"The two details on which he needed official assistance: What the capsule should be made of and what it should contain."

Mayor Charles Pearson of Anaheim was elected league president. Robert Rinn, mayor of Lodi, was named vice president, and E. S. Dixon, mayor of Inglewood, treasurer.

Various departments of the league announced the election of these officers:

City Planners—President, Joseph Mellen, Glendale; vice president, Glenn Hall, Sacramento; secretary, Clayton W. Paige, city engineer, Burbank.

Recreation and Park Officials—President, Finlay MacKenzie, Santa Barbara; vice president, Eugene Watson, Roseville; secretary, W. Allen Perry, San Diego; director, Robert W. Crawford, Oakland.

Fire Chiefs—President, James M. Nellis, Arcadia; vice president, V. Van Sant, Napa; secretary, Charles N. Carrell, Santa Monica; director, John H. Alderson, Los Angeles.

AFL Grocery Clerks Go on Strike Against 68 Safeway Stores in Alameda County

OAKLAND (AP) — The AFL grocery clerks were on strike today at the 68 Safeway Stores in Alameda County.

The walkout yesterday extended the 37-day strike against 11 Safeway stores in the East Bay.

because the company had not included store managers in a $2 weekly raise pay it granted.

earlier in the day, retroactive to Sept. 19, to head clerks, clerks and apprentices in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

Compromise agreements had settled most of these walkouts.

SIFERS REALTY

2 Homes, Truck Damaged in Fires

Fire did minor damage to two Redwood City homes over the weekend and firemen also extinguished two grass fires and a truck fire but there was little damage reported.

Children rekindled a pile of burning rubbish at a lot on Stambaugh St. near Charter St.
Saturday afternoon after firemen had previously extinguished the blaze. Fire crews had been burning off lots in the area.

The department answered a call at 6:03 p.m. Saturday to extinguish a grass fire at Charter and Spring Sts. but were unable to locate the blaze.

There was another call early Sunday morning at 518 Grand St. and firemen extinguished a grass fire that blazed up in the lot. There was no property damage.

Fire did $125 damage to the home of A. Hernandez, 104 Redwood Ave., early Sunday afternoon when the mattress caught fire. Firemen said the blaze was apparently caused from a cigarette and the fire burned through the mattress and set fire to some of Hernandez's personal belongings.

A fire at 537 Hamilton St.
caused approximately $50 damage to the apartment occupied by Frank Ortega Sunday evening. Firemen said curtains in the apartment caught fire when they brushed against an open heater. The blaze damaged the window frame and part of the interior of the apartment, firemen said.

Fireman Fred Biron suffered
answering the call.
